

CIRCUS TRAINS IN A COLLISION

On Grand Trunk Road.

Frightful Loss of Life Caused by Air Refusing to Work.

The Wallace Outfit Wrecked.

Reports Place Killed at Twenty-one, and Number of Injured at Twenty, Some Fatally.
Scene in Grand Trunk Yards Was Appalling.

Durand Mich., Aug. 7.—Wallace Bros' circus was wrecked in the Grand Trunk yards here, at 4 o'clock today, and 23 men, mostly employees of the circus, including a few of the performers were killed outright. Twenty more were injured, some fatally.

The show was traveling in two sections over the Grand Trunk tracks from Lansing to Lapeer, and the accident it is said, was caused by the failure of the second section of the train to stop in time. The two sections were traveling near each other, and the second section ran into the first at full speed.

The engine of the second section and four cars of the first section were completely demolished. Much valuable property was destroyed and the loss to the circus people will probably be very heavy. Some of those killed and a few of those injured, were railroad people attached to the train.

Roe, Armstrong, Ill., internal injuries, Frank Tilley, Rising Sun, Ind., hip dislocated, very badly bruised and internal injuries, Bole Adrians, Sandusky, O., Burt McGrath, Connelville, O., John W. Koons, Balderton, O., George Bartley, Los Angeles, Cal. Some animals were killed. The scene in the Grand Trunk yards, after the collision, was appalling. The wreckage of the engine and four cars was strewn about and piled high, while the shrieks of the injured victims, and the howling of the frightened animals could be heard above the hiss of the escaping steam and the excited shouts of the rescuers. It was some hours before all the injured were rescued from the wrecked cars. Some of them were in terribly agony, and it is feared that seven more will die.

The wreck according to the statement of the engineer of the second section was caused by the failure of the air brakes to work.

SECOND
Account Shows the Disaster in All Its Horrowing Details.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 7.—An air brake on the second section of the Wallace Bros. circus train refused to work in the Grand Trunk railway yards here early today, causing a collision between the two sections.

The circus travels in two trains of about 35 cars each. After last night's exhibition at Charlotte, the two trains left for Lapeer over the Grand Trunk road, the second section leaving a half hour after the first. It was 3:45 o'clock when the first section pulled into the west end of the Grand Trunk yards here. A red light was hung on the rear car to stop the second section. Engineer Propert, of Battle Creek, who was running the engine of the rear train, says he saw this light, and applied the air brakes. To his horror, it refused to work. He reversed his engine, but the momentum of the heavy train behind was too much, and with a crash that aroused all of the town near the yards, the two trains met. Three cars of the stationary first section were telescoped, and the engine and five cars of the moving train were demolished. The rear car of the first section, the caboose in which the trainmen were sleeping, and the next two, were filled with sleeping circus employees. The greatest loss of life was in the caboose. One of the wrecked cars of the second section was occupied by five elephants and several camels. One of the elephants and two camels were killed outright, while the other animals and their trainers escaped. With the exception of this car none of the menagerie was wrecked, the other demolished cars containing canvas or wagons, and there was comparatively little excitement among the wild animals. As soon as they recovered from the first shock the trainers rushed among the cages quieting the few beasts that were excited. The elephants in the wreck behaved with surprising calmness and were led out of the wreck without trouble.

The escaping steam and screams and cries of those pinned in the wreck made a horrifying spectacle in the gray of early morning, when the train men in the yards and the aroused town people first reached the scene. Many feared at first that some of the menagerie had escaped, as some of the animals could be heard crying. The fire whistle was immediately sounded, and the whole town aroused. The rescuers could see unfortunatees through the tangled wreckage, and went furiously to work without waiting for tools to extricate them. A wrecking crew is kept in the yards here, and it was on the scene in a very few minutes, bringing tools and equipment in plenty.

All the physicians and trained nurses were sent for and those in nearby places were rushed to the scene on hand cars. The hotel Richelieu was converted into a temporary hospital, and scores of volunteers with stretchers were in readiness to carry the injured there as fast as the rescuers could extricate them. The dead, many of them so terribly mangled that identification seemed well nigh impossible, were carefully laid on the green sward a short distance from the scene. By 6 o'clock a corps of 12 physicians was operating on the injured and dressing their wounds in the temporary hospital. Four of the injured died at the hospital before 8 o'clock. When the wrecking train crews had finished pulling to pieces the tangled and broken cars, seventeen dead men were lying on the grass awaiting removal to the morgue.

A majority of them were killed while asleep. The circus performers on the rear of the moving train escaped injury. Wallace Brothers say that their loss will be very heavy, but have given no estimate as yet. This is the second wreck that the Wallace shows have suffered within a month.

ENGINEER
Only Jumped When Within a Second Of Death.

Engineer Propert, fireman Colter and head brakeman Benedict, who was also on the engine of the second section all agree that if the brakes had worked as they ought to have, when the engineer tried to use them, there would have been no collision. Firman Colter and brakeman Benedict when they saw that a collision could not be avoided, jumped. Engineer Propert remained at his post vainly trying to get the brakes to work until his train was within less than a hundred feet of train No. 1. Then he jumped when he was within but a very few seconds of sure death, in the crash. He was of course shaken up as was the fireman and brakeman, but not badly. None of the crews of either train was hurt. At the time the crash occurred, train No. 2, was running probably 15 miles an hour.

OFFICIAL REPORT
States That the Second Train Was Not Charged With Air.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 7.—The official report on the accident issued this afternoon by Supt. W. E. Brownlee, says: "The proper danger signals were displayed by the brakeman of the first section" who had been sent back three quarters of a mile, with a lantern, fuses and torpedoes. The engineer of the second section answered the signals and claims to have made application of the air brakes, but found that the train was not charged with air, and was unable to stop, colliding with the rear end of the first section, demolishing the caboose, one coach in which circus canvassers or laborers were asleep, two stock cars, one containing camels and elephants and the other horses. Trainmaster McCarthy, chief special officer, large, special officer Foley and foreman of locomotives J. Hazet, were riding in the caboose. The first two were killed outright, and the others were seriously injured. Nineteen circus employees were killed instantly and three were seriously injured, two of whom have since died. Nine more were severely injured, and there were numerous badly scratched and bruised. Engineer Propert states that his air brakes worked all right at Lansing, where he took water, and that he had no occasion to use it again, until he was flagged west of Durand, where he found that the train was not charged with air. The five sleepers in the rear of the second section were found standing about two coach lengths from the end of the train, after the accident with the draw head in one of the cars jammed in, indicating that it had been broken apart by the accident, and rebounded, when the train stopped, which is evidence that the brakes were not applied. The air brakes in the train have since been tested and found to be in perfect condition.

Brakes Not Applied.
Durand, Mich., August 7.—The officials of the Grand Trunk Railroad say that air brakes were not applied by the engineer of the second section.

Three French and two Moorish soldiers were killed and a number were wounded.

BETTER TONE WAS NOT HELD

And Copious Liquidation Caused Recessions in All Active Stocks.

New York, August 7.—Yesterday's late improvement in the stock market was continued at today's opening, no little encouragement coming from London, where prices for American were generally higher. The better tone was not long sustained, however, profit taking and further liquidation for weak accounts causing recessions in all the active stocks till in many instances prices went below yesterday's closing.

Part of the liquidation was in Virginia-Carolina Chemical, which was freely offered at a slight advance. It is known that one prominent stock exchange house closed out loans for at least two banking houses. Indications point to a continuance of these tactics for a time to come. In the absence of any market buying power the list sold off more or less irregularly throughout the morning session.

All of yesterday's gains, with few exceptions, were wiped out by noon, and the under tone of the market was heavy with demand for stocks was extremely light. In fact there was next to none with liquidation of the first hour seemed to exhaust itself before the end of the morning session. Trading was moderate in volume and confined chiefly to the better known issues. The shorts were not especially aggressive, but took advantage of the general heaviness to keep prices down. Especial weakness developed in Canadian Pacific, and the Virginia-Carolina issued during the noon hour.

Small London Failure.
London, Aug. 7.—Arthur George Ricks, a small broker failed today.

New York, Aug. 7.—Opening prices of stocks showed a continuation of yesterday's late upward movement. Many leading stocks were up more than 1/2, but few showed gains in excess of a point. Amongst the latter were Chicago Great Western and Virginia-Carolina Chemical, which rose 1 1/4 each. Illinois Central, Metropolitan Street Railway and Consolidated Gas gained a point. There were 1,300 shares of Missouri Pacific sold simultaneously at 91 1/2 and 92, compared with 92 1/4 last night and New York Central was shaded a small fraction. Selling on the opening advance caused some immediate recessions.

Sales to realize on purchases made yesterday cancelled the opening advances, and put the active list a fraction below yesterday's close. In addition Car and Foundry, North American, Hocking Valley, St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred and Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie declined 1 and 1 1/4. On the other hand Atchafalpa preferred, Southern Railway, preferred and several other minor stocks lost 1 to 2. Support developed on the decline as there were some sharp rallies following a jump in Reading to 49. The market was inclined to drop again at 11 o'clock.

DEMURRERS OVERRULED

In the Suit to Recover Duties Paid on Sugar From Manila.

New York, August 7.—Judge Geo. W. Ray in the United States circuit court handed down two decisions today overruling the demurrers taken by George R. Bidwell, when collector of the Port in the suit of the American Sugar Refining Company, to recover duties upon certain sugars brought from Panay in the Philippines and from Porto Rico. The Refining Company sued for $58,077 with interest from October, 1899 in the matter of the Philippine Sugar and for $21,716 in the Porto Rico sugar, with interest from April 18, 1899. The allegations of the plaintiff say that the amounts were illegally executed and collected by duress of the goods. The action was begun in the supreme court and returned to the United States circuit court. Collector Bidwell demurred on the ground, in the Panay matter, that when the sugar was shipped on March 14, 1899 the Philippine Islands were foreign territory as the treaty of Paris was not ratified by the Spanish authorities until March 19, and by the Washington authorities until April 15,

CORDIAL GREETING

Passed Between Roosevelt and New German Ambassador Extraordinary.

Whole Bunches of Good Will Set Forth in Their Speeches—New Minister Has a Wide Knowledge of American Government and People.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Sagamore Hill, President Roosevelt's country home, was the scene today of an interesting ceremony. Baron Speck Von Sternberg, who has been minister plenipotentiary of Germany to the United States, ambassador Von Holleben, returned to Europe, and who recently, on the retirement of Mr. Von Holleben was elevated to the rank of ambassador presented to the president his credentials as ambassador, and was received formally in his new diplomatic rank by President Roosevelt. Ambassador Von Sternberg arrived in Oyster Bay, at 10:04 o'clock from New York. He was received at the station by Secretary Barnes, representing President Roosevelt. Accompanying the Ambassador were acting secretary of state, Francis B. Loomis and Col. Thomas W. Symons, superintendent of the public buildings and grounds, at Washington, and the military aide of the president.

I trust, Mr. President, that you will kindly second my efforts, and thus facilitate the fulfillment of my important mission."

President Roosevelt replied as follows: "Mr. Ambassador, I have much pleasure in receiving from your hands the letter whereby his Majesty, the German Emperor, accredits you as his ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary in the United States of America, in place of his Majesty's former ambassador, Mr. Von Holleben, whose letter of recall you now deliver to me.

"Your knowledge of the American government and people, gained during your several periods of residence here as a diplomatic agent of Germany, and the pleasant relations which have existed between your self and the executive officers of this country lend added weight to the assurance of your desire and endeavor to advance and strengthen the relations of amity which have been maintained so long and unbrokenly between the United States and Germany, and will enable you moreover to appreciate at its full weight, the reciprocal assurance which I gladly offer of the equal wish and purpose of this government to promote in all practicable ways the fulfillment of your mission."

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the President and Ambassador Von Sternberg, as old friends chatted animatedly. The ambassador will be the unofficial guest of President Roosevelt until some time tomorrow. It was stated authoritatively today that the reception by the president of the German ambassador, at Sagamore Hill, is not to be regarded as a precedent, although it is the first time in the history of the country that an ambassador has presented his credentials to the president, outside of Washington. Ministers who arrive in the United States during the vacation season, will not be presented to the president at his summer home, unless there is some strong and urgent reason for it. Baron Von Sternberg was received because the circumstances connected with his coming the United States were exceptional in a sense.

The German Ambassador said: "Mr. President. By command of his Majesty, the German Emperor, King of Prussia, my most gracious master, I have the honor, Mr. President, to place in your hands, a letter of His Majesty, whereby he recalls his former ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary in the United States of America. I place this my credential letter in your hands with the assurance that it shall be my most earnest endeavor to cultivate, promote and develop the relations of friendship which have so long existed, without the slightest interruption between Germany and the United States."

At 11 o'clock, Col. Symons escorted the Ambassador who was in full court dress, to Sagamore Hill, where the formal presentations occurred in the parlor of the Roosevelt home. Ambassador Von Sternberg, laid before President Roosevelt, the letter announcing the recall of Ambassador Von Holleben, and his own credentials as successor.

By command of his Majesty, the German Emperor, King of Prussia, my most gracious master, I have the honor, Mr. President, to place in your hands, a letter of His Majesty, whereby he recalls his former ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary in the United States of America. I place this my credential letter in your hands with the assurance that it shall be my most earnest endeavor to cultivate, promote and develop the relations of friendship which have so long existed, without the slightest interruption between Germany and the United States."

THINGS WRITTEN

By Nichols Show Him Badly Mixed in His Statements About Murder.

Evidence That Will Be Damaging to Him Was Secured at the Inquest---His Mind Is Fixed on the Crime and He Talks of Nothing Else.

The Newton News-Republican says: "The nervous strain under which Wm. Nichols, the alleged murderer, is passing through, was this morning more pronounced and his protests of innocence are so frequently repeated that one official said that he feared the man's mind might be affected if it continued."

Whenever talking with anyone Nichols' conversation always reverts to the one subject, the crime of which he is accused. He repeats many times that he is innocent, but some of his statements become badly confused. Yesterday and this morning, he has had written several statements explaining about his trip, and what he says is his knowledge of the crime. Nichols is unable to write, so has a fellow prisoner do it for him. The statements are given by Nichols to Sheriff Griffith, who holds them as he said they would turn the work of the officials in their preparation for the trial if given out.

Nichols the sheriff says, has written some things, however, which will have to be explained, when the case is brought to trial.

Nichols slept well last night, and this morning besides the written statements, sent letters to his relatives asking them to come and visit him. The theory of insanity is not considered at the jail, as those in charge say he eats and sleeps well.

Nichols has made several remarks which have made those who heard them suspicious. One of them was made yesterday. He said, "They have got to treat me well, or I won't tell a thing and I could tell a great deal if I wanted to." At another time when talking of the crime someone told him that whoever did the deed would be electrocuted. "That's what I am afraid of," said Nichols.

Coroner Protzman finished the inquest over the death of Minered, last evening, but will not give out his report for several days. He will not discuss the case before the verdict is filed. However, from witnesses, it is learned that evidence was secured that will be damaging to Nichols.

Rheumatism

"THE PAIN KING."

Those who have ever felt its keen, cutting pains, or witnessed the intense suffering of others, know that Rheumatism is torture, and that it is right-ly called "The King of Pain."

All too often Rheumatism comes suddenly seized with the most excruciating pains, and it seems every muscle and joint in the body was being torn apart. Others feel only occasional slight pains for weeks or months, when a sudden change in the weather or exposure to damp, chilly winds or night air brings on a fierce attack, lasting for days perhaps, and leaving the patient with a weakened constitution or crippled and deformed for all time.

An ailment of condition of the blood is the cause of every form and variety of Rheumatism, Muscular, Articular, Acute, Chronic, Inflammatory and Scurvy, and the blood must be purged and purified before there is an end to the attacks and pains. External applications, the use of liniments and plasters, though they afford temporary relief, but such treatment does not reach the root cause or cleanse the diseased blood; but S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers, and it cures Rheumatism by antidoting and neutralizing the poisonous acids and building up the weak and sluggish blood. It is safe and reliable in all forms of Rheumatism. It makes the old acid blood rich, and the pain-tortured muscles and joints are relieved, the shattered nerves are made strong, and the entire system is invigorated and toned up by the use of this great vegetable remedy.

If you have Rheumatism, write us, and our physicians will furnish without charge any information desired, and we will mail free our book on Rheumatism.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Lima.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this: Mr. J. W. McKay, of 1140 West High street says: "I had a severe attack of pain and soreness across my loins and kidneys. The secretions from the kidneys became irregular, scanty and highly colored. I was not subject to such troubles, and such a severe attack coming on so suddenly, rather alarmed me. I could hardly stoop on account of my back being so painful, and if I sat or lay in any one position my back ached severely. I was in a pretty bad shape when I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I procured a box at Wm. M. Melville's drug store and used it. It was only a matter of a few days before the trouble was thoroughly removed."

No Chance For Them.

A number of capitalists sent a man down to a little town to report on the advisability of introducing gas there, says the Brooklyn Eagle.

"Well," queried one of them, "what do you think of it?"

"No use," responded the agent. "Wouldn't pay the salary of the superintendent, let alone the expense of putting in the plant."

"Why? What's the matter? Citizens too poor?"

"No, they're rich enough."

"Old fashioned! Prefer kerosene or candles?"

"No; that's not it."

"Well, what is the matter then?"

"Too many engaged couples. Would not burn gas at all."

Consumption Threatened.

"I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption," says C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill. "I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

ROLLED SAFE DOWN A HILL.

Blew It Open and Then Were Frightened Away With-out Booty.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 6.—At 4 o'clock this morning robbers removed the safe from the bar of the Washington Hotel, (formerly the Denny), and rolled it down the side of the steep hill on which the hotel is situated. Passers-by, including street car men going to work, saw the men, but paid no attention to them. The robbers drilled the safe and planted dynamite and stepped out of the way. Several people stopped within a few hundred yards to look at the safe lying in the street, and the possibility of safe cracking was suggested. While they were looking, the safe exploded. Then people came running from all directions. The safe crackers, of whom some say there were two and some say three, made a rush for the safe to get its contents, but were frightened by people who came running down from the Washington Hotel, and they left the $100 which it contained.

TIP TICKLED THEIR FANCY.

How a Great Many Men Are Led to Plunge on Horse Race, Some Luckily.

A lighted match carelessly thrown into a bush of furze on Epsom Downs some years ago, put £2,000 into the pockets of three men who were standing a little distance away from the bush discussing the probable winner of the Derby, which they had come up from Sheffield to witness. The match set the furze on fire causing, as one of the three sportsmen remarked, "a regular blaze." Hardly were the words out of his mouth than it struck him as coincidental that St. Blaise was the name of one of the candidates for the blue riband.

He half jokingly suggested putting some money on the horse, and his two friends jumped at the idea, perhaps all the more readily because they were unusually superstitious even for sportsmen. The fact that St. Blaise was a rank outsider and stood at 50 to 1 against, did not deter them, which was lucky, for St. Blaise got home first thus winning for one of the plungers, who put on £20 with, perhaps, a doubt, a cool £1,000, and £500 each for his two friends. Nor were these three men the only persons who accepted the singular tip, as many of the bookmakers learned to their cost.

Memory gave Mr. Wm. Redmond, M. P., a splendid tip one day, a year or two ago, and the fact served to console him for the unpleasant incident which had bestirred his memory. He was just leaving the house of commons, after being "suspended," when it occurred to him that the last time he had issued from the house of that particular exit after being "suspended," he had O'Donovan Rossa for the companion of his departure and suspension. And it also occurred to him that next day at Greenwood, a horse named O'Donovan Rossa, was to race for the Stewards' cup.

Mr. Redmond is not a particularly superstitious man, or he might have plunged with advantage, but, taking into consideration that the horse was a 66 to 1 chance he cautiously laid a single sovereign on O'Donovan Rossa. He was probably as much surprised as pleased when he heard the next day that his memory had given him "the straight tip."

A Mr. Forth, who died recently leaving a handsome fortune of more than $50,000, turned the corner of his career by acting upon an idea suggested to his mind by a singular coincidence. At that time, he was the manager of a small Lambeth public house, and, despite his environment, he had never been led into betting. One day, however, while serving in his bar, he heard his customers discussing the forthcoming Derby, and was gradually drawn into the conversation, during which he learned that one of the horses entered for the race bore the same name as himself—Frederick, his Christian name.

This tickled his fancy and interested him so much that he watched the papers to see how his namesake rose and fell in the betting. But he never for a moment dreamed of backing it until the day before the race was run, when he learned that the horse was to be ridden by a veteran jockey, whose surname was the same as his own—Forth. He at once declared his intention of laying £10 on the animal. In vain his friends argued that Frederick stood at 33 to 1; that Forth was sixty-seven years old, and that there could not be a chance of the horse winning. He stoutly replied that for the horse to bear his Christian name and be ridden by a jockey having his surname was too much for him. Back it he did not with £10 but with £20, and he cleared £600 over it, from which he built a substantial fortune.

Needless to say, there must be thousands of incidents where such tips have led to loss instead of gain. But it is success, not failure that is interesting to read about, and after all, there is nothing strange in singular tips of this description turning out badly. The fact that on the day the empress of Germany died, a filly, the Empress Frederick, was running, at Birmingham, was surely a singular coincidence, but hundreds of superstitious folks deemed the empress' death an ill omen, and refrained from backing the filly, which, however, won easily.

TRIED

To Take Officer's
Schalala

And Beat Her

Daughter-in-Law Over the Head.

Mrs. Jacob Wise Figures in Free-for-all With Her Son's Wife.

Drunken Man Causes a Disgraceful Scene on South Side—Funeral of Max Wetherill Held This Afternoon.

There has been trouble brewing for several days on St. Johns avenue in the neighborhood of Vine street, and culminated yesterday afternoon, in a free-for-all knockout fight that resulted in the moral and physical persecution of officer Billestein to quell the riot.

It was another mother-in-law affair.
Mrs. Jacob Wise of 771 St. Johns avenue has been having her son and his wife live with her since early in the spring. Things have not been running smoothly and the daughter-in-law seems to have been abused by both her husband and his mother. From the swollen condition of her face it would seem that there is some truth in what she says. At last unable to bear her cruel treatment longer, she determined to leave the house bag and baggage.

Here the first difficulty was encountered. Mrs. Wise refused to leave her clothes. Then complaint was made at police headquarters and officer Billestein was detained to help the young woman rescue her trunk and other belongings. When the officer and his charge entered the house, they found themselves at once in the midst of a howling whirling Kluge cyclone. Young Mrs. Wise was struck in the face in the melee and knocked over a jar cutting her hand severely. The old lady finally attempted to take the officers' club to her in order to expedite matters, but the attempt was futile.
The woman was taken to the hospital and the officer departed giving both women orders to report at the police station at 9 o'clock this morning to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct.

This morning there was another free time at the house on St. Johns avenue. This time between the young man and his mother. This would seem to indicate that there are two sides to the question but the general sympathy of the neighborhood is with Mrs. Bert Wise.

This morning Mrs. Bert Wise appeared and an affidavit was sworn out against her mother-in-law charging her with destroying her property. The claim is that the trunk was mutilated by the old lady. The case was set for a hearing in the mayor's office at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Was Hilarious.
Yesterday afternoon there was a disgraceful scene on South Pine street and St. Johns avenue when a Holmes his home a man who was so hilarious drunk that he could not keep quiet for ten seconds to save his life. He shouted, yelled, prayed and sang by turns in a truly shocking manner.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

Pursuant to the order of the Democratic State Central Committee, notice is hereby given that the convention of the Democrats of the state of Ohio, to nominate candidates for state offices, to be voted for at the November election, 1903, for the endorsement or rejection of constitutional amendments submitted by the General Assembly and for the nomination of a candidate for United States Senator, will be held at Columbus, Ohio, on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 25, and 26. Each county will be entitled to one delegate and one alternate for each five hundred votes cast for Herbert S. Bigelow for Secretary of State, the November election, 1903, and one additional delegate and alternate for the remainder of votes exceeding two hundred and fifty.

With the reduction in the price of its securities, the U. S. Steel corporation is retrenching. Schwab received a salary of $100,000 per year. Corey, his successor is to get $75,000. That is some economy, but to make it commensurate with the decline in securities, the salary of the last named should not be over $50,000.

JUST BREAKING THROUGH.

Columbus had a gas mystery, Tuesday night, when the whole east side of the city was permeated with a strong smell resembling carbide. Three women were overcome by it, and one laid in a stupor for hours.

MORE FRAUDS.

Another extensive line of frauds in the government service has been discovered in the marking of the weight of whisky barrels by government gaugers. Some two years ago a Philadelphia saloonkeeper, after emptying a barrel of whisky, noticed that the weight of the barrel, as stamped on it by the government gauger, was 70 pounds. He had the curiosity to weigh it, and found that it actually weighed 82 pounds. He realized that he had paid for twelve pounds of whisky he had not received—a gallon and a half.

tions of fraud, in the postal department, the treasury department; the agricultural department and the war department, this exposure confirms the belief that the whole governmental service is permeated by fraud and rascality. But the parties punished here, as in the other cases, are the small fry. It would be more to the point if some of the big fish, who are responsible for such frauds and who get the benefit of them, should be brought to punishment.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

MR. BRYAN AT URBANA.

The longer Mr. Bryan reflects upon his two defeats for the presidency, the angrier he becomes at Mr. Cleveland, whom he believes to be the cause of his loss of that high office. Later he has become almost hysterical in his grief, and one must believe that he is rapidly losing the prestige which he gained at Chicago and which he has maintained with surprising pertinacity.

The Bryan speech at Urbana, Wednesday, was long on invective and short on harmony. It was the wall of a stubborn man, who has twice collided head-on with a stone wall and means to do it again, or get somebody else to try the experiment, if he can. He spoke of ex-President Cleveland in rather more disrespectful terms than it is his custom to employ—for what? To gratify his fierce spirit of resentment and fancied wrong. Looking at the performance soberly, after it is all over, he cannot believe that he has added to his personal dignity or the regard in which he is held by his fellow-men. It is by no means certain that the character of Mr. Cleveland's administration defeated or could have defeated Mr. Bryan in 1896. Mr. Bryan made his own issues for that campaign, and was defeated. He maintained them in 1900, and was defeated again. It was not a question of the Cleveland administration so much as of the new policies that were proposed; and in both campaigns something must be conceded to the earnest convictions of those who were opposed to the Bryan policies. Mr. Bryan was defeated because the people did not agree with him; he did not get votes enough. The sooner he recognizes that and ceases the flaying of individuals—particularly Mr. Cleveland to whom a large portion of the democracy yet adhere, the better it will be for him and the more creditable will be his performance before the public. By his present course, he is lowering himself in the estimation of the people and doing all that he can to prevent that harmony which is a prerequisite to party success.

At Urbana, Mr. Bryan got the resolutions and Mr. Zimmerman got the delegates—a result which in itself is a pretty fair hint to the Nebraskan, and his satellites in Ohio that there is a decided drifting away from the doctrine which they preach. Bryanism will be worn while it must be for appearance's sake, but it will be do as soon as possible. The wearing of the garment is perfunctory and unpleasant, but it will be endured out of politeness and the necessities of party regularity. But all the while there will be an inward prayer for the day of deliverance.—Columbus Dispatch.

THE AGILE OSPREY.

A Hungry Bird and a Tragedy of a Trout Stream.

A big brown and white bird came sailing up the trout stream, his long wings stretched far out to right and left. He flew slowly, for he was looking for something—something that he wanted very much. He was doing his family marketing. Up in the top of a big pine tree a mile away his wife was sitting on a nest full of eggs, and it was both his duty and his pleasure to find a supper for her. Suddenly he stopped short. He had caught sight of the thing for which he was searching—a dusky, shadowy shape, with an outline like that of a submarine torpedo boat, lying motionless in the clear water. For just an instant he seemed to hang poised in the air, but it was only long enough to change the direction of his motion; then down he went with a rush and a swoop.

The brook trout saw him coming and tried to dart away, but it was too late. With a mighty splash the osprey struck the stream and went clear under and out of sight, while the water boiled and surged over him. He could not see for the commotion about him, but his aim had been true, and his outstretched feet touched a slippery, slimy, wriggling body that was just beginning to gather headway.

Quicker than a wink his toes closed about it and his sharp talons sank deep into the trout's flesh. Then up he came, rising out of the stream like some fabled monster of old and shaking the water from his feathers in a shower of flying drops. Every thread of muscle in his wings and breast was working with all its might to lift that heavy trout. Up went the bird's great plations till they were straight above him; then down they came, lashing the air like whips. Up again and down, up and down, up and down, harder and faster and fiercer, and little by little he and his victim rose from the stream till at last they were clear of the tree tops, then straight away to the nest in the old pine, where the wife was waiting to make them both welcome.—W. D. Hulbert in Leslie's Monthly.

A PUBLIC SCOLDING.

The Way a Scotch Minister Rebuked His Wife in Church.

"I cherish a story I once heard in Scotland," said a well known author. "The story that is, I think, typical of a certain portion of the people. "This story concerns a minister who caught a member of his congregation sleeping and rebuked him from the pulpit. 'Awake, Saunders,' he said. 'Man, it's a disgrace to sleep in the kirk.' "Saunders was much hurt. He spoke up and said: "Look to yer ain pew, an' mayhap ye'll find it there sleepin' here besides myself."

"The minister looked, and there was his wife slumbering soundly. He awakened her, and he told Saunders that if she fell asleep again he might call attention to her by holding up his hand. Then he proceeded with his sermon.

"Some weeks went by, and one Sunday Saunders, sure enough, put his hand up. The wife was asleep again. The minister thundered out her name, bade her rise to her feet and said to her before the whole congregation: "Mrs. MacGregor, anybody kens that when I got ye for a wife I got no beauty; yer friends ken I got no siller; now, if I dinna get God's grace I shall have a pulpit bargain indeed."—Kansas City Journal.

King Snake and Water Moccasin.

"Two years ago," says a writer in the Scientific American, "it was my good fortune to witness a combat between a king snake and a water moccasin. I was attracted to the scene by a negro laborer. When I reached the spot I found the snakes coiled together in a pool of water, the king snake gripping his enemy with the tip of his tail just back of the head. It was clearly his intention to drown the moccasin. For the purpose of taking a photograph I lifted the two struggling, writhing serpents to a rock. Just before I took my photograph the king snake pulled the moccasin's head in the exact position he wished and quickly stretched his jaws over it. Thoughtlessly enough, I put the snakes back into the water, thinking that the king snake would also drown. Very soon, however, he left the pool, stretched his victim straight out before him and leisurely began to swallow him. In my efforts to take another photograph he was frightened away. Both snakes were nearly the same size, being about three and a half feet in length."

The Art of Listening.

There is a grace of kind listening as well as a grace of kind speaking. Some men listen with an abstracted air which shows that their thoughts are elsewhere, or they seem to listen, but by wide answers and irrelevant questions show that they have been occupied with their own thoughts as being more interesting, at least in their own estimation, than what you have been saying. Some interrupt and will not hear you to the end. Some hear you to the end, and forthwith begin to talk to you about a similar experience which has befallen themselves, making your case only an illustration of their own. Some, meaning to be kind, listen with such a determined, lively, violent attention that you are at once made uncomfortable, and the charm of conversation is at an end. Many persons whose manners will stand the test of speaking break down under the trial of listening.

Hastings and Tilden.

Hugh Hastings, when editor of the New York Commercial Advertiser, was incessant in bitter attacks upon Samuel J. Tilden. One day he received a letter from Henry F. Spaulding, then president of the Central Trust company, to the effect that his attacks upon Mr. Tilden appeared unwarranted, and unless he could give some satisfactory explanation Mr. Spaulding would discontinue taking the Commercial Advertiser.

Mr. Hastings replied, "When I was a clerk in Albany Sam Tilden was known as the boy who sold grated turnips for horse radish, and he has been doing it ever since."

Mr. Spaulding did not stop the Commercial Advertiser.—New York Times.

A Lot of Sick Ones.

A delegation of clergymen once called on President Lincoln to recommend one of their number as consul at the Hawaiian Islands and in addition to qualifications for fitness appealed to the president's sympathy on the ground that the candidate was in poor health and a residence in that climate would be of great benefit to him. Lincoln questioned the men closely as to his symptoms, then remarked:

"I am sorry to disappoint you, but there are eight other men after this place, and every one of them is sicker than you are."—The True Abraham Lincoln.

Control Your Thoughts.

In the firm control of our thoughts lies the secret of the most wonderful possession of which we can boast—character. It is quite as much a matter of habit as of will, this being honorable, truthful, just; having formed our principles of right living, conscience invariably points to a whole hearted loyalty to them. And when baser motives plead, why, here is just where your will power may profit by exercise.

The Very Worst Lightning Rod.

Almost everybody believes that Franklin was the inventor of the lightning rod, and in this one particular nearly everybody is mistaken. The first lightning conductor was not invented by the genius who is said to have "caught the lightning wild and played with bolts of thunder," but by a poor Bohemian monk who lived at Seutenberg, who erected his lightning catcher on the palace of the emperor of Preditz, Moravia, on June 15, 1754. The name of this inventive monk was Prokop Dluwisch. His apparatus was composed of a pole surmounted by an iron rod supporting twelve curved branches and terminating in as many metallic boxes filled with iron ore and inclosed with a wooden boxlike cover. This was traversed by twenty-seven iron pointed rods, the bases of which were connected with the ore boxes. This entire system of wires was united with the earth by a large chain.

The enemies of Dluwisch, jealous of his success, excited the peasants of the neighborhood against him, claiming that his invention was the cause of the dry weather that was ruining their crops. When the inventor laughed at them and refused to remove it they put him in prison and then destroyed his work.

M. Nielsen used a triple pointed rod years before Benjamin Franklin ever thought of a lightning rod.

The King Snake's Power.

The most relentless exterminator of reptiles is a member of the family itself—the beautiful, lithe, yellow and black king snake, the friend of man and the avowed enemy of anything that creeps or crawls regardless of size or poison fang. A native of our own south, the king snake is between five and eight feet long and no thicker around than a man's thumb. Built in every muscle and bone for speed and tremendous constricting power, there is not another snake on earth that can withstand his assault. He is immune to the poison of the cobra and of the rattler alike, and the strength of a thirty foot python has no terrors for him. Within five minutes from the opening of the fight the king snake could kill the biggest python that ever lived. Ferocious as the little constrictor is toward his own kind, toward man he is friendly and rarely tries to escape when met abroad.—A. W. Hoker in McClure's.

Modern Sun Worshipers.

In Europe several persons now sedulously pay homage to the sun, and in a learned journal, entitled L'Ecole Nouvelle, one of them maintains that the sun should be especially honored at Christmas.

"Christians should be regarded as a festival for the benefit of humanity," he says. "In this way we can once more become united with the Aryans, our ancestors, who worshiped fire and who celebrated the birth of the divine constellation, who is the father of light, of heat and of life."

He then suggests that the following prayer be said daily: "O thou who causest fire to appear, who drivest away the cold, O thou of prodigies, of malignant passions, of dreams and of wicked apparitions, O thou who bringest to nought the plans of the wicked, to thee we pray, Lord Sun, since thou art the light of the world."

An Orchid Tragedy.

Perhaps Madagascar has claimed more orchid hunters' lives and been the scene of more revolting acts of cruelty than any other place. Some years ago a German orchid fancier, while seeking some specimens in the forests of this island, was captured by some of the native priests, who, after covering him with oil, burned him alive. Another collector who was seized by some of the same priests was allowed to choose between being burned alive or himself setting fire to some fagots on which lay another prisoner, also an orchid collector, and thus saving his own life. He chose the latter alternative and died six months later a lunatic.

Antiquity of Wrestling.

Probably the first authentic record of a wrestling match is in A. D. 1222, when chivalry on the European continent was undergoing a change for the better. During the reign of Henry III. of England a match took place in St. Giles' field, London, between citizens of Westminster and the city of London proper. Wrestling was, however, popular as a pastime in England at a much earlier period, and from that country many of the different styles originated.

TRACK NOTES.

The village of North Washington, in Hardin county, between Ada and Dunkirk, is fortunate in being situated on the P. Ft. W. & C. Ry. The place, which has only about 824 inhabitants, according to the last census, is to be honored with the principal coal and water station on the Pennsylvania road, between Chicago and Alliance.

The company has appropriated $200,000 for the construction of a new patented watering device there. Fast "fliers" will speed through the village and take water while running at full speed. The water to be used will be filtered by precipitating the lime by chemicals so that the boilers of the locomotives will always be clean.

The coal station to be constructed there will also be the best and most modern apparatus that has been invented. The amount of time taken to coal a train, will be reduced to a minimum.

Workmen are now engaged in making a water reservoir in the ground, twenty-five feet deep. While digging in it last week, the men struck a huge vein of water that could not be controlled for several hours. It is expected that three months will be required to finish the work on the apparatus.

Arthur's Successor.
On Monday next, a meeting of the three grand officers remaining in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will be held in Cleveland, and a successor will be selected to the late P. M. Arthur, grand chief, and A. B. Youngson, assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood. A call for the meeting will be sent out tomorrow according to address from Cleveland. The general impression among most of the members of the organization is that M. H. Shaw, who was delegated to do the work by the late Mr. Youngson, will be elected although Herman E. Williams of the C. & N. W. is a candidate for the place and is making a fight for it. Mr. Williams was a candidate before the last convention against Mr. Arthur but did not run much of a show.

Mr. Shaw is not at all a candidate for the place, although his friends are carrying on a canvass in his behalf.

Will Loose His Arm.
O. J. Hatter of 1111 Forest avenue, was removed to the hospital this morning and will probably have to undergo an operation before tomorrow. His left arm was crushed while cutting some cars in the Lake Erie yards a few days ago. There were no bones broken and it was thought that he would do well but the circulation has stopped in the injured member and it is very likely that the arm will have to be amputated above the elbow.

GIBBONS CARRIES

From Pope Pius X the Apostolic Benediction to All the Faithful.

In a Lengthy Conversation the Pontiff Renews
His Expressions of Interest in America.

Will Aid Catholic University at Washington.

Rome, Aug. 7.—Cardinal Gibbons, who was received by the Pope today in private audience. In a lengthy conversation, Pius X renewed his expressions of interest in America, already made manifest by his reception Wednesday, to the pilgrims from the United States.

The Pope said he should like to have had the cardinal remain in Rome for some time, in order that he might become thoroughly acquainted with all questions connected with the United States, but His Holiness did not insist, being aware, he said, of the cardinal's delicate state of health, and his suffering from hot weather in closing the audience, the Pontiff charged Cardinal Gibbons to carry the apostolic benediction to all the faithful of America.

After his private audience, Cardinal Gibbons presented to the Pope, the Rev. Dennis O'Connor, rector, and Father Charles P. Grannan, professor of theology at the Catholic University, at Washington, and Father P. C. Gavin, the cardinal's secretary. The Pope spoke most affably to each, and said to Rector O'Connor, that he knew the importance of the Catholic University, at Washington, and would do all possible to further its interests and prestige.

They were married at Spencerville June 18, 1899, and the wife brings charges of habitual drunkenness, which has led to gross neglect of duty. The defendant is a tool dresser capable of earning $3.50 per day but the wife has not only lost the benefit of his labors, but suffered the consequences of bad habits. She charges him with having committed adultery with Alice Miller and other women, and that she has had to seek protection from the police to prevent being forcibly ejected from her home. She wants the court to protect her against her husband's intention to dispose of the household goods and a yearling colt.

WAS AN OHIO MAN.
Jamestown, N. Y., August 7.—The body of the man who was killed near this city yesterday while engaged in a fight with Eric Bauman was identified today as that of Charles Frey, of Akron, Ohio, a member of a highly respectable family.

Burdock Blood Bitters gives a man a clear head, an active brain, a strong, vigorous body—makes him fit for the battle of life.

Polish Wedding Customs.
According to the Polish custom, the marriage ceremony usually occurs on a Sunday, this being done to permit the men to attend without losing any time from their employment, while the bride is supposed to maintain the greatest secrecy concerning her wedding until she is actually clad in her wedding garments of thin white and bridal veil. Then she goes from house to house, regardless of the conditions of the weather, and invites her friends to her wedding, which, of course, is paying them a very pretty compliment. Again, according to custom, and during the course of the reception, a china bowl is placed in the center of the table upon which the feast is spread, and each man whom the bride honors with a waltz understands that he is to throw with all his might and main a silver piece into this bowl, the idea being to break it, and the man who is so fortunate as to shatter the vessel is entitled to the farewell dance and a kiss from the bride. While the custom is curious it is none the less practical, as it is not an infrequent thing for the newly married couple to receive three or more hundred dollars at their wedding feast.

A Dog and a Song.
During one of the last birthday celebrations of the poet Whittier he was visited by a celebrated oratorio singer. The lady was asked to sing, and, seating herself at the piano, she began the beautiful ballad, "Robin Adair." She had hardly begun before Mr. Whittier's pet dog came into the room and, seating himself by her side, watched her as if fascinated, listening with a delight unusual in an animal. When she finished he came and put his paw very gravely into her hand and licked her cheek. "Robin takes that as a tribute to himself," said Mr. Whittier. "He also is Robin Adair." The dog, bearing his own name, evidently considered that he was the hero of the song. From that moment during the lady's visit he was her devoted attendant. He kept by her side when she was indoors and accompanied her when she went to walk. When she went away he carried her watch in his mouth to the gate and watched her departure with every evidence of distress.

A Grand "Round-Up" OF SUMMER CLOTHING.

We have determined that not one suit for man or boy that we bought for this summer shall be carried over another season. This has been our policy from the inception of our business and we will carry it out at any cost. We made our purchase in anticipation of at least reasonable summer weather, but the rain and cold of June spoiled our plans and that is why we have such a large stock on hand in spite of the big business of July. We have now determined to make a uniform reduction on every suit in our stock of

25 Per Cent OR ONE FOURTH

And this reduction is made on prices that were already remarkably low. Just read what this means, then come in and see the garments for yourself; only then can you realize the true importance of this offer.

$20.00 Suits, less one-fourth, now	$15.00
18.00 Suits, less one-fourth, now	13.50
15.00 Suits, less one-fourth, now	11.25
12.00 Suits, less one-fourth, now	9.00
10.00 Suits, less one-fourth, now	7.50
8.00 Suits, less one-fourth, now	6.00
6.00 Suits, less one-fourth, now	4.50
5.00 Suits, less one-fourth, now	3.75

The same generous reduction has been made in our Pants Department and also in our Boys' and Children's Clothing Department, and in our Furnishing section we have cut prices in a manner that must certainly interest you.

Every Straw Hat in this store is now 13 to 1-2 less than its original price.

THREE PRIZES BROUGHT HOME
By Jumbo Division of Maccabees at the Close of the Mansfield Camp.

Nearly all of the members of "Jumbo Division", uniform rank, Knights of the Maccabees, returned home last night from Mansfield, where the camp of the 11 regiments has been held this week. Camp Parker has been a big success, and the Lima boys returned overflowing with praise. Although the baby organization, Lima won three prizes, one for the company coming from the largest distance, another because of having the greatest number in the parade and a third prize in the competitive drill, Columbus winning the first and Toledo the second.

Lima's company little expected to win a prize in the drill as the organization is but three months old, and of the other 11 companies all have had a chance to do work with the local organization jumped into with but short preparation. Lima's company received an ovation wherever they went, and the boys were repeatedly called upon to parade before headquarters where refreshments and cigars were liberally served.

The camp was held at the fair grounds, where nearly 1000 of the Maccabees were quartered in tents, and the drills were witnessed by large crowds of people who came out from the city and spent the evening.

There has been a change in the uniform of the officers—a very great improvement. This necessitates change of equipment throughout the companies. It is desired to have the regiment uniformly equipped instructions were given regarding various regimental matters. The meeting lasted a couple of hours and preliminaries were thoroughly gone over. All the troops will wear blue flannel shirts and the uniform to be worn enroute to and from camp, and at drills, will consist of campaign hat, blue flannel shirt, khaki trousers, leggings and shoes. White collars and gloves must be provided for the use on proper occasions. Civilian attire must neither be brought nor worn in camp messes will be arranged by companies. Field and staff officers will constitute a headquarters mess under the supervision of Major Marquis.

EXTENT OF A REVOLT

In Villayette of Monastir Has Caused Bulgarians to Flee to Hills.

Porte Will Employ Only Regular Troops to Suppress Insurrection, Being Aware of the Outcome of Undisciplined Soldiery.

Constantinople, Thursday, Aug. 6.—(Delayed in Transmission).—News received here as to the extent of the Bulgarian revolutionary movement in the Villayette of Monastir is conflicting. In consular despatches from Monastir which were received this morning, the opinion is expressed that the insurrection broke out a fortnight earlier than its chief intended, and before the bands were in readiness, presumably because the latter were disconcerted by the active preventive measures adopted by the authorities. The Bulgarian inhabitants in a number of villages have fled to the mountains for refuge. The railways have asked that the troops guarding the lines be quadrupled, but this would entail the employment of 20,000 soldiers and in view of the impoverished treasury, the government will find it difficult to comply with the request.

In spite of reports to the contrary, it is confidently believed in well-informed quarters that the porte in conformity with its formal declarations will employ only regular troops to suppress the insurrection, as it is well aware how important it is for Turkey to avoid excess such as certainly would be the outcome of the employment of undisciplined Albanians or other irregular soldiery. The diplomats here entertain no doubt that the Porte will continue its present policy of fighting the bands with regulars. Of the eight battalions of infantry despatched to Monastir, four will remain at Monastir, three will occupy the heights of Peristeri, to the westward of Monastir, and one will go to Florin, a town of 11,000 inhabitants, 17 miles southwest of Monastir.

Porte has sent categorical instructions to the Valls of the Armenian provinces of Asia Minor, holding them personally responsible for any Kurdish excesses and ordering vigorous measures to be taken to prevent fighting. The British vice consul at Bitlis, has been ordered to proceed to Mush, 80 miles south of Erzeroum, where the Kurds and Turks occurred in 1891 to investigate the situation there. A consular despatch from Erzeroum received here this morning, says the excitement in that district is quieting down, but that the Valls of Erzeroum reports that Heli Arnid Huitchakists, from Russian territory, have compelled the Armenians in the villages of Sasun Villayette (also the scene of Armenian massacres in 1894) to take refuge in the mountains. The Valls has sent four battalions of troops against the Huitchakists who escaped to the mountains. The Porte has communicated this information to the Russian embassy calling attention to the fact that the bands came from Russian territory.

He has also been president of the American Association of Farmers' Institute Managers.—Country Gentleman.

THE APIARY IN SPRING.

The Time When Care Counts Most. Dwindling and Starvation.

There is no time during the entire year that we can do more to increase the value of the apiary than in the early spring, about the months of April and May. Many good colonies may be saved outright by timely attention, and the force of worker bees will be double when the honey season opens if proper attention is given at this time.

There are more losses of bees during the month of April perhaps than any other month in the whole year, and we might be safe in saying all the other eleven months combined. This is due to two causes—spring dwindling and starvation. The last cause is the more disastrous and more easily remedied. Spring dwindling is the result of bad wintering, for which there is but little remedy. But there is no excuse for any one to let his bees starve to death through sheer negligence when perhaps they were robbed the fall previous and made to give up not only their surplus, but their winter's food besides.

Every colony of bees should have as a reserve store in early spring ten pounds of honey at least, and if found very much short of this they should be fed. Feeding may be commenced—that is, liquid feeding—as soon as the bees begin to fly frequently and kept up until the colony has a sufficient amount to insure it safely through until it can gather honey.

All colonies that have a shortage of stores in early spring will as sure have a shortage of bees when the honey season opens. This always means a half crop of honey at the best and in many cases no crop at all, even if the season is a good one.

A pound of food now means a pound of bees when the honey season opens, which may add half a hundred pounds of honey per colony to the crop. Bees consume great quantities of honey in springtime to rear their brood, and brood rearing will not proceed without it. It frequently occurs that they will consume their own brood to subsist when thus running short of stores. This may be detected by the appearance of pieces of dead brood found at the entrance of hives, and it may be remedied at once by feeding.—A. H. Duff in Farm, Field and Fireside.

Best Place to Fatten a Steer.

A bulletin from the Minnesota experiment station gives details of an interesting experiment in steer feeding which is interesting because it agrees with conclusions reached by other investigators and by plain feeders. The report shows that steers fattened outdoors, with access to open sheds for shelter, made larger and more economical gains and better profits than those fed in stalls, where everything was in favor of warmth and comfort. Labor was not charged against the stall fed steers, and conditions were in all respects similar except the stabling. Professor Waters by experiments in Missouri feed lots has reached the same conclusions, and Dr. Armistead has shown by the respiration calorimeter that the fattening steer needs no stable or other artificial warmth. It may be said, therefore, with the authority of science and experience both, that the open lot, with shed for shelter, is the best place to fatten a steer.—National Stockman.

A MEETING OF CITIZENS

Held to Raise Funds to Fight the High School Building Case.

There is still something doing in the high school building fight that is on between the board of education and a number of the citizens of Lima. The executive committee, appointed by the citizens some time ago to fight the case in the courts, and composed of Messrs. U. M. Shappell, W. E. Crayton, and Joel Spyrker, has called three meetings of its constituents in different parts of the city during the past week. The last one was held last evening, in the Odd Fellow's hall in the Boysell block, on the south side.

The meeting was called for the purpose of letting the executive committee know just how the opinion of the people stands with regard to continuing the fight through the circuit court and even to the supreme court, if necessary, after Judge Mathers, of Sidney, announces his decision in the common pleas court, next week.

The meeting was largely attended and there was plenty of earnestness, as there has been in all of the meetings held thus far. The consensus of opinion was that the committee should go ahead and fight the case to the very last. A finance committee was appointed and a number were appointed to solicit funds for the expenses of the law suit. Mr. E. Boysell and several others started this morning with subscription papers, and from all accounts, have met with success.

It appears that those who are lending their moral and financial support to the movement, are not solely residents of the south side, but of various parts of the city. This explains why there have been several meetings called, the supporters of the movement from different sections of the city being called together to give their opinion as to how far the suit should be carried and how the funds therefor should be raised.

DROPPED

Out of the Amateur Championship.

Wapakoneta's Ball Team Has Disbanded.

Players Made a Demand for Higher Salaries, Which the Manage- ment Declined, and Team Scattered.

The Wapakoneta base ball team has disbanded. According to a member of the aggregation, there was internal discord, and it led to a complete disruption, which scattered its players and practically closes the season as far as the lively town in Auglaize county is concerned. It hasn't been a losing venture, as the attendance at the games has been sufficient to meet the expenses, but there were other things to be considered and all was not of the harmonious nature which promised to meet an emergency which the management was bound to consider.

The trouble lies with the players. If the explanation offered is to be believed Games have been won which promised a state amateur championship, but some of the players got "swelled on themselves," and made a demand for more money. The increase was not in reason, considering the dividing line of the professional and amateur, and the result was a disbanding which left the team too weak to meet the demand made by the clubs furnished by such teams as Piqua, Sidney and other towns can afford. The boys were paid in full, money left in the treasury and Wapakoneta consequently will pay a dividend to its stockholders, but is left without material to complete the season's schedule. Nippert, the great backstop for Wapakoneta, has signed with Sidney which will give the rival team strength to compete for the amateur championship against all comers.

HOW CHEAP BAKING POWDER IS MADE.

A recent seizure of a lot of "cheap" baking powders by the authorities of a neighboring city has exposed the character of the low priced brands of baking powders which many manufacturers are offering throughout the country. The price of the powders first attracted attention to them. Samples were taken and analyzed. The official report of the analysis showed the stuff to be "alum powders," composed chiefly of alum, sulphuric acid and pulverized rock. The powders were declared dangerous to health and several thousand pounds were confiscated and destroyed.

Physicians have frequently cautioned consumers against mixing food with these so-called "cheap" baking powders. They are all found, when analyzed, to contain large percentages of alum and sulphuric acid to which are added various sorts of filling matter sometimes both injurious and nasty.

The high class, cream of tartar baking powders, are the most economical and wholesome and should always be selected for use. They will be found cheaper in the end, besides making the food better and more healthful.

STRIKE HAS BEEN ENDED

And Buffalo Union Furnace Men Will Return to Work at Once.

Buffalo, Aug. 7.—It was announced today that the strike of the employees of the Buffalo union furnace company has been settled and that the men would return to work at once. The company will not recognize the furnace workers union but will deal with the various strikers through the union with which they are affiliated. The strike originally was declared as a result of trouble with a blacksmith employed by the company. Five hundred men quit work.

SHIRT WAISTS ALL GO AT HALF PRICE AT FELT'S.

BODY

Of C. J. Bainer Ar- rived Today.

Will Be Taken

To Sandusky, Tomor- row, for Burial.

Deceased Was a Member of the O. R. C. and of the Masonic Order.

Casket Could Not Be Opened on Its Arrival Here and Relatives Were Not Permitted to View Remains.

The remains of C. J. Bainer, the well known former L. E. & W. railroad, whose suicide, occurring at his late home in Shreveport, Louisiana, was mentioned by the Times-Democrat Wednesday, arrived in this city over the C. H. & D. on train 6 at noon today and were removed to the parlors of undertakers Jones & Williams, where they will remain until tomorrow morning and will then be taken to Sandusky, Ohio, for burial, leaving here on L. E. & W. train 3 at 8 o'clock. The deceased's brother, J. M. Bainer, and wife, of Cleveland, have arrived here and will accompany the remains to Sandusky. The deceased's mother, Mrs. Katherine Bainer, of the Union block, is still seriously ill and may not be able to go to Sandusky to attend the funeral.

Bainer Shot Himself.
Information received from Shreveport is to the effect that "Cooney" Bainer ended his life while alone in his home in that city by sending a bullet from a revolver through his heart. He and his second wife had become separated and it is understood relatives of the wife were responsible for the estrangement. It is believed that the separation was the cause of Bainer taking his own life.

The unhappy man had been dead about 36 hours before his body was found, and a deplorable feature of the case is that fact that the body became so badly decomposed that upon its arrival here the casket could not be opened to permit relatives and friends to view the remains. On the arrival of the body in Cincinnati last night the casket was sealed in a metallic case.

Member of Three Orders.
The remains of Bainer were accompanied from Shreveport by Mr. H. H. Ferguson, a representative of the Shreveport division of the Order of Railway Conductors, who states that the deceased was a member of the O. R. C. and an officer in the Shreveport division of that order, and was also member of the Odd Fellows' and Masonic orders.

HUNGRY FOR A LOCAL TEAM

But the Prospects for Base Ball in Lima This Year Are on the Slim Order.

There is an inclination on the part of a number of base ball enthusiasts to pick up the remnants of the Wapakoneta team and finish out the season in Lima. The only discouraging proposition is that there is no location which can be secured where a ground can be laid out unless the field between Lima and McBeth's park, now being leveled, is decided on.

It has long been the desire to secure the old fair grounds, but the stock holders are divided on the proposition and rather prefer to confine their interests to racing. Mr. Chappell, proprietor of the City Transfer Company, is putting up a ground which promises well for next season, but it will take several weeks yet to get it in condition for playing. There is not a good promise of base ball of the exciting kind this year, and whatever games are played will be of the decidedly amateur order. The season of 1904 may offer something better for Lima as the fever is such that no cure can be offered which will reach the seat of trouble so far as the fans are concerned.

It usually costs several dollars to hear Creator's famous band. That pleasure may be enjoyed at Winona Lake at much less expense. Ask ticket agent, F. M. Eakin, of the Pennsylvania line, about low fares and special train service during the engagement of the band at Winona Lake, the week of Aug. 10th. 64-St. way-11.
